Graduate certificate: multicultural education and culturally competent practice

Website: https://www.grad.uiowa.edu/ogi

The certificate program in multicultural education and culturally competent practice helps students develop culturally competent practice as they continue in their academic and professional careers. The program raises awareness of how worldview, values, beliefs, and biases shape the ways in which individuals and groups interact, interpret, and learn from each other. It is based on the need for a proactive and sustained approach to educational reform, advocacy, and social justice.
