Capstone

Completion of the MA in English with a literary studies subprogram requires either a thesis or a portfolio. Students submit a written description of their choice to the director of the program before the semester in which they plan to graduate.

Course #	Title	Hours
One of these:
ENGL:5990	MA Portfolio in Literary Studies	1
ENGL:5999	MA Thesis in Literary Studies	1

MA Thesis

The thesis entails a 25- to 35-page essay of literary criticism consonant in form and content with the variety of articles published in journals and periodicals. The essay may not be submission-ready; rather, it must be a body of writing that looks toward possible publication. If the essay originated in a course taken during the program, it should be substantially revised per input from the thesis director and possibly the original course instructor.

The thesis may also assume a form that diverges from a traditional literary critical article. Alternate thesis projects must be approved by the director of graduate studies.

Students who choose to write a thesis must submit a brief prospectus approved by their thesis director before they register for ENGL:5999 MA Thesis in Literary Studies and at least one semester before they submit the thesis. Refer to the Academic Plans [p.] in this section of the catalog for detailed timelines for the submission and defense process. The thesis committee consists of the thesis director, the director of the MA program, and one other faculty member. The thesis is evaluated by the committee as either satisfactory (S) or unsatisfactory (U).

A copy of the thesis must be presented to the Graduate College for approval. For information about Graduate College deadlines and policies, visit the Manual of Rules and Regulations on the Graduate College website.

MA Portfolio

Near the end of their coursework, students who do not choose the thesis option must submit a portfolio of work to the MA examination committee, which consists of the director of the MA program and two other English faculty members. All three read the full portfolio. To pass, the candidate must have a majority vote of the committee members.

Students take the first step toward preparing to submit a portfolio by meeting with the director of the MA program to discuss the portfolio, early during the semester in which they plan to graduate. After fulfilling all distribution and eligibility requirements and clearing all incomplete grades, students present the director with a draft of the portfolio's introductory statement. Students planning to graduate at the end of the fall semester should present the statement by the first week of October; those who plan to graduate at the end of the spring semester should present the statement by the first week of March. Once the director approves the statement, the student must submit three copies of the full portfolio; the submission deadline is Nov. 1 for students planning to graduate at the end of the fall semester and April 1 for those who will graduate at the end of the spring semester.

The work in the portfolio should demonstrate the student's knowledge of literature as a broad historical and theoretical inquiry. Students submit approximately 50 pages (12,500 words) of their best work, along with a self-reflective introductory statement of five to seven pages. The body of the portfolio should contain revised versions of papers originally produced for classes. The introduction should detail the student's trajectory in the program and the literary-critical or methodological skills gained. It should also explain the contents of the portfolio, contextualize each paper, and give a brief overview of the writing. Students are expected to describe the research methods used in assembling their portfolios and the critical practices that ground their work.

MA Without Subprogram

The Master of Arts in English without a subprogram requires a minimum of 60 s.h. of graduate credit. Students may earn credit for up to 18 s.h. of transfer courses toward the degree. They must maintain a graduate college program GPA of at least 3.00.

There is no direct admission to this subprogram; it is only open to students accepted into the English PhD program.

Each student must satisfy a portion of the course requirements of the PhD program. For the MA, the students must have completed the coursework that would normally be expected by that point in the program.
