Doctor of Pharmacy, PharmD

Requirements

The Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) program provides professional education in a number of areas, including pharmaceutical technology, biopharmaceutics, medicinal chemistry and natural products, pharmaceutical socioeconomics, pharmacotherapy, patient care, clinical and hospital pharmacy, and aspects of biotechnology. Graduates of the program are qualified to take the Iowa Board of Pharmacy examination that is required for licensure as a pharmacist.

The program requires four years of full-time pharmacy study preceded by at least two years of pre-pharmacy study in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of lowa or at an accredited community or liberal arts college in the United States or Canada. During pre-pharmacy study, students complete the prerequisites for admission to the PharmD program (see Admission [p.] in this section of the catalog for a list of prerequisite coursework). If possible, students should complete all 20 s.h. of their general education work before they enter the PharmD program. Courses in moral reasoning or ethics, communication, computer science, business, behavioral and social sciences, and the humanities are recommended. Courses in physical education skills, applied music, and studio art do not count toward the general education electives requirement. Students must maintain a pharmacy and cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.00.

For rules and regulations concerning academic probation, pass/nonpass, credit by examination, maximum schedule, second-grade-only option, waiver or substitution of courses, cancellation of registration, and drop date, see PharmD Student Resources on the College of Pharmacy website.

The College of Pharmacy provides students with the highest possible quality in the professional experiential program. Faculty and adjunct faculty serve as preceptors, providing introductory and advanced practice experience at institutions and pharmacies in Iowa, nationwide, and around the world.

Professional Curriculum

The PharmD degree requires the coursework listed below, including at least 6 s.h. of professional electives. In addition, students must complete all prerequisites for admission to the PharmD program, including a minimum of 16 s.h. of general education courses chosen from behavioral, social, humanistic, and business disciplines (see Admission [p.] in this section of the catalog). They also must complete an additional 8 s.h. of general education coursework either before or after admission to the PharmD program.

Third Year Spring Semester and Fourth Year: Advanced Pharmacy Practice Rotations

During the spring semester of the third year, students may choose to complete one or two rotations in addition to the eight rotations required during the fourth year. During the fourth year, students must complete eight advanced pharmacy practice rotations. All students must complete the first four rotations listed below (24 s.h.); the remaining rotations may be selected by each student.
