

Doctor of Philosophy

Graduate degrees: M.A. in business administration; Ph.D. in business administration

Website: <https://tippie.uiowa.edu/future-graduate-students/phd-programs>

The Doctor of Philosophy program in business administration is an interdepartmental degree open to students in several Tippie College of Business departments. Basic requirements for the degree are detailed under Requirements in this section of the Catalog. For additional information, see graduate programs in the accounting, finance, management and organizations, management sciences, and marketing sections in the Catalog.

The Tippie College of Business also offers a Doctor of Philosophy in economics; see Economics in the Catalog.

Programs

Graduate Programs of Study

- Master of Arts in Business Administration

The M.A. in business administration is a terminal degree; students are admitted into the Ph.D. in business administration degree program.

- Doctor of Philosophy in Business Administration