International Activities Courses
(Study Abroad) (INTL)

This is a list of all international activities courses. For more information, see Study Abroad.

INTL:3001 Public Health Activities Abroad

Volunteering, noncredit service learning, noncredit internships, academic competitions, or other noncredit academic-related work completed abroad. Requirements: good academic and disciplinary standing, and approval and nomination from the College of Public Health.

INTL:3005 Entrepreneurship Activities Abroad

Volunteering, noncredit service learning, and noncredit internships, academic competitions, or other noncredit academic-related work completed abroad. Requirements: good academic and disciplinary standing, and approval and nomination from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

INTL:3015 College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Activities Abroad

Volunteering, noncredit service learning, noncredit internships, academic competitions, or other noncredit academic-related work completed abroad. Requirements: good academic and disciplinary standing, and approval and nomination from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

INTL:3020 Education Activities Abroad

Volunteering, noncredit service learning, noncredit internships, academic competitions, or other noncredit academic-related work completed abroad. Requirements: good academic and disciplinary standing, and approval and nomination from the College of Education.

INTL:3500 Virtual Global Courses

Participation in virtual global courses at other United States or international universities while maintaining student status at the University of Iowa. Requirements: good academic and disciplinary standing.

INTL:3525 SIT Virtual Global Courses

School for International Training (SIT) online courses involve a dynamic learning environment centered around a global theme or a specific language, with an optional immersive course taught abroad; SIT courses are developed around a framework of critical global issues—challenges that transcend borders to touch every human on the planet; SIT programs are interdisciplinary and appropriate for a variety of majors, and provide an opportunity to grapple with the complexities of today’s most pressing issues in specific cultural and geographical contexts, or comparatively across several countries. Requirements: 2.50 g.p.a. or higher, sophomore or higher standing, good academic and disciplinary standing, and any course-specific requirements set by SIT.

INTL:3539 Virtual Brazilian Carnival: Music and Dance

Exposure to all dynamic aspects of carnival parades in Rio de Janeiro through literature, videos, drumming, zoom presentations by experts in Brazil, and practice of samba; dance, music, historical and social contexts, production, critical theories of performance, religious backgrounds, theater making; current and centuries-old traditions; students interact, explore, critique, practice, and share their experiences as online visitors to this world-famous city. Requirements: minimum 2.5 g.p.a., and good academic and disciplinary standing.

INTL:4515 USAC Global Virtual Internship

Students explore their future career interests by working online with businesses and organizations based at locations around the world; includes an online course component to learn how culture is reflected in workplace and develop skills necessary for success in the global workforce; virtual internships arranged with local companies, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), and governmental organizations based abroad; administered by the University Studies Abroad Consortium (USAC) of which the University of Iowa is a member. Requirements: minimum 2.50 g.p.a. and good academic and disciplinary standing.

INTL:4525 SIT Virtual Global Internship

Distance learning that centers around a theme and includes an online internship with a community organization, research or medical organization, business, government agency, or nongovernmental organization (NGO) based outside of the United States; students gain valuable experience and enhance their skills in a professional environment related to core program themes; students are responsible for making optimal use of resources available at the organization and being proactive in engaging with experts to achieve internship objectives. Requirements: minimum 2.50 g.p.a. and good academic and disciplinary standing.

INTL:4530 CEA Virtual Internships Abroad Program

Placement with an organization or company based abroad while working remotely from student’s home base in the United States; individualized placements based on student’s interests and proposed career field; students complete an online seminar independently and through check-ins at their virtual internship placement. Requirements: minimum 2.50 g.p.a. and good academic and disciplinary standing.

INTL:4535 TEAN Global Remote Internship

Real-world, international work experience in a variety of fields without travelling; four- or eight-week individual or group internship; students work on a project from start to finish for a company located in Australia or Asia and participate in an online seminar course; students learn about unique challenges and flexibility that being part of a remote team provides, as well as cultural information about the location where organization is based. Requirements: minimum 2.50 g.p.a. and good academic and disciplinary standing.