

Endodontics, Professional Certificate

Financial Support

Applicants to the certificate program must be able to support themselves financially until they complete the program.

Prospective students should plan to pay for living expenses, tuition, books, specialized equipment (e.g., surgical operating microscope, notebook computer, and ultrasonic system), instrument usage, and other costs.