

Education Studies and Human Relations, B.A.

Requirements

The Bachelor of Arts with a major in education studies and human relations (ESHR) requires a minimum of 120 s.h., including at least 30 s.h. of work in the major. Students must have a cumulative g.p.a. of at least 2.00 in all college coursework and in all UI coursework. They also must complete the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences GE CLAS Core. A course used for the GE CLAS Core cannot also be used to count toward major requirements. All courses must be taken on a graded basis, unless a course is only offered as nongraded.

Students in their first year at the University of Iowa who have earned less than 30 s.h. are advised through the University's Academic Advising Center. Those with more than 30 s.h. are advised through the Academic Advising Office at the College of Education.

The major can be paired with one of the minors offered through the College of Education (educational psychology or human relations) or a major or minor from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. At most, only 3 s.h. may be counted toward another major or minor.

The major consists of a 15 s.h. core curriculum plus an additional 15 s.h. chosen from the list of approved elective courses in a student's declared program of study. Students may choose ESHR as their major; or one of the two subprograms within the major, either education studies or human relations. Students are required to earn a minimum of 18 s.h. in ESHR coursework at the University of Iowa.

Electives

For the remaining 15 s.h. required for the major, students choose from the following list of courses, depending on their choice of subprogram or the major without a subprogram, to build a multidisciplinary slate of skills that enhances their future careers or graduate work. While students may choose any of these courses to earn the major without a subprogram, those who pursue the education studies (ES) subprogram or the human relations (HR) subprogram select courses relevant to their area.

Concentration Areas

Whether students pursue ESHR or one of its subprograms, guidelines for informal concentration areas may provide a useful resource in choosing electives that are meaningful, useful, and a cohesive program of study. Guidelines for informal concentration areas are offered as a course selection aid to be used in consultation with an academic advisor and are not listed on a student's transcript or diploma. These informal concentration areas are meant to be fluid over time to best reflect trends and issues in the field of education and helping professions. Further, students may create their own concentration focus that will meet their own career trajectory. The guidelines for informal concentration areas are located on the College of Education website.

Academic Standards and Probation

Students are expected to meet academic standards set by the college and to demonstrate reasonable progress toward a degree. If they do not meet all grade-point average conditions, then students are placed on academic probation. Students usually are allowed only one session to return to good academic standing. They are required to meet with an academic advisor. Students on academic probation who withdraw registration after the deadline for dropping courses may be dismissed.
