Psychological and Quantitative Foundations, EdS

Admission

Applicants must meet the admission requirements of the Graduate College; see the Manual of Rules and Regulations on the Graduate College website. Applicants are reviewed holistically.

Preference is given to applicants with:

- an undergraduate major in psychology, education, or a related field;
- an undergraduate grade-point average (GPA) of 3.00 or higher;
- a graduate GPA of 3.00 or higher;
- related research experience; and
- an interest and experience working with children and adolescents in K–12 settings.

Submission Materials

Applicants should submit:

- a Graduate College application form;
- official transcripts for all previous college work;
- a personal statement outlining career goals and reasons for seeking training in school psychology at the University of Iowa;
- three letters of recommendation from individuals who are qualified to assess the applicant’s potential for completing the doctoral program; and
- an updated curriculum vitae or résumé.

The program encourages applicants from minoritized and other underrepresented groups to include persons from a wide range of backgrounds and academic preparation. Students begin the program in the fall. The application deadline is Dec. 1; admission decisions usually are made by March 1. Applicants are invited to campus for interviews before final selection.
