Teaching and Learning, MS

Learning Outcomes

Students will:

• demonstrate understanding of and ability to analyze theoretical concepts and research in their field of study;
• express ideas effectively in written and spoken communication;
• connect research to practice and practical questions in their professional context;
• effectively apply their knowledge and skills to their professional context; and
• demonstrate curiosity, inquiry, and critical and data-based decision making.