

Social Studies Education, BA

Requirements

The Bachelor of Arts with major in social studies education requires a minimum of 120 s.h., including the general education requirements for the degree, a minimum of 42 s.h. in social studies professional education courses, 30–36 s.h. in social studies education content courses, and 15–27 s.h. in history or social science coursework for one or more teaching endorsements outside of their major subject area. General education requirements to earn a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS). The major requires admission to the Teacher Education Program (TEP), and students must maintain TEP academic and professional standards. Application information can be obtained through the Office of Student Services.

Students must earn one of these majors at the University of Iowa in order to earn the BA in social studies education: a BA in anthropology, a BS in anthropology, a BA in economics, a BS in economics, a BA in geographical and sustainability sciences, a BS in geographical and sustainability sciences, a BA in history, a BA in political science, a BS in political science, a BA in psychology, a BS in psychology, or a BA in sociology; both degrees may be earned at the same time. Graduates who have earned one of these degrees at another institution and wish to earn the BA in social studies education should consult the Department of Teaching and Learning; additional coursework may be required.

For initial licensure, student teaching must be an all-day, full-semester experience. Most students are placed in a district within a 60-mile radius of Iowa City. Placements outside this area require special approval and are considered on an individual basis. Special site programs provide experience in districts with diverse populations and students may also apply to student teach at international sites for the second half of the semester.

Additional information about options for student teaching and application procedures is available from the Office of Student Services. Applications for student teaching must be submitted during the calendar year before the student teaching semester. The deadline for students planning to student teach the following fall semester is Nov. 15 and April 15 for the following spring semester.

Programs designed to lead to professional licensure are subject to federal regulations regarding informational disclosures. Please see Professional Licensure Disclosures by Program for further information.

Consult with advisor on course selection).

Added endorsement programs for additional teaching areas other than social studies are available.

Teacher Education Program Academic and Professional Standards

State of Iowa teacher preparation standards require that teacher candidates demonstrate the content, pedagogical, and professional knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to help all students learn. Because of this, the College of Education and the Teacher Education Program have established academic and professional standards that students must maintain. For undergraduate teacher candidates and Bachelor of Arts candidates in social studies education, these standards include the following.

- University of Iowa cumulative GPA and overall cumulative GPA, based on total hours earned
 - 0–29 overall earned semester hours: minimum of 1.85 (2.70 for good standing)
 - 30 or more overall earned semester hours: minimum of 2.00 (2.70 for good standing)
 - Non-degree students: minimum of 2.00 (2.70 for good standing)
- TEP major GPA (overall cumulative): minimum of 2.00 (2.70 for good standing)
- University of Iowa term GPA: minimum of 1.50 during fall or spring enrollment
- A grade of C-minus or higher in TEP major courses
- No notices of concern in professional dispositional qualities
- Academic good standing in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
- Major GPA in the TEP CLAS content major: minimum of 2.00

- UI major GPA in the TEP CLAS content major: minimum of 2.00
