

Human Toxicology, Ph.D.

Financial Support

Doctoral students in human toxicology receive stipends and tuition support from University of Iowa sources, including internal fellowships and graduate research assistantships, and from non-university sources, such as training grants from the National Institutes of Health (NIH).