

Art, BFA

Learning Outcomes

Students will:

- acquire a breadth of knowledge about the field of art history through coursework in a diversity of areas;
- learn that art embodies historical, cultural, social, and political factors within a diverse range of national, international, and global cultures;
- acquire critical skills in visual analysis and research; and
- develop skills in oral and written communication.

Requirements

The Bachelor of Fine Arts with a major in art requires a minimum of 120 s.h., including 62 s.h. of work for the major. Students must maintain a grade-point average of at least 2.00 in all courses for the major and in all UI courses for the major. They also must complete the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences GE CLAS Core.

Bachelor of Fine Arts students majoring in art may count a maximum of 62 s.h. earned in art, art history, and design courses toward the degree; they must earn at least 58 s.h. of credit in courses outside the School of Art, Art History, and Design in order to graduate. BFA students who are graduating with a double major in the school (e.g., a major in art history and a major in studio art) or a major and a minor in the school (e.g., a major in studio art and a minor in art history) may apply more than 62 s.h. from the School of Art, Art History, and Design toward their degree, but they must earn at least 56 s.h. of credit in courses outside the School of Art, Art History, and Design in order to graduate.

The major provides a foundation in art history as well as an understanding of the formal traditions and contemporary practices in studio art. It also includes a concentration in a specific discipline in studio art.

Students select one studio art discipline, choosing from ceramics, graphic design, three-dimensional (3D) design, drawing, intermedia, jewelry and metal arts, painting, photography, printmaking, and sculpture. They may not select bookbinding, calligraphy, or papermaking as their studio art discipline. Although students may choose only one BFA discipline, they gain exposure to other studio areas through the BFA program of study. A BFA degree is currently not offered with a subprogram in animation.

Students majoring in art begin their study in the Bachelor of Arts program. They may apply to the Bachelor of Fine Arts program after consulting with the faculty in the studio discipline of their choice. Students are admitted to the BFA program through a process called "clearance," which is conducted once each semester; they must be admitted to the BFA program at least one semester before they graduate. Students who wish to enter the BFA program should consult the faculty in their major studio art discipline for information about the required portfolio review.

In order to sit for BFA clearance, students must have completed:

- the two studio art foundation courses ARTS:1510 Basic Drawing and ARTS:1520 Design Fundamentals;
- one introductory course in the BFA studio art discipline; and

- two upper-level courses in the BFA studio art discipline (students may be enrolled in the two upper-level courses when they sit for clearance).

BFA students complete all requirements for the BA major in art (required courses) plus additional studio work. They also must present a show of their work through ARTS:4195 BFA Exhibition before they graduate.

For more information about teaching art in elementary and/or secondary schools, see "Teacher Licensure" below.

The BFA with a major in art requires the following work.

All of these:
One introductory course and three upper-level courses in the student's studio art discipline
One introductory course and one upper-level course in a second studio art discipline
One introductory course and one upper-level course in a third studio art discipline

BFA Exhibition

Students must present a show of their work in ARTS:4195 BFA Exhibition during the semester in which they graduate. Variations must be approved by the BFA faculty advisor and academic advisors. The show must be advertised using flyers and other media. Students planning to graduate with honors in the major also are required to participate in a separate Honors in the Major group show. Students must meet with faculty and academic advisors to complete the required documentation before they present their show.

Transfer Students

Transfer students should contact the undergraduate academic advisors for information about transfer portfolio review and specific coursework that satisfies the requirements for the major in art. Students may count a maximum of 21 s.h. of approved transfer credit toward their major.

Study Abroad

Students who wish to study abroad must meet with the undergraduate advisor before they depart in order to confirm approval of the courses they plan to take.

Students who take studio art courses abroad must bring their artwork back to campus and present it in a portfolio review, which determines whether the work satisfies a requirement for their major. The portfolio review is not required if the study abroad course was taught by a School of Art, Art History, and Design faculty member who gave the student a grade for the course.

Students who plan to take art history courses abroad must present the course syllabus to their advisor well in advance of their departure. The head of the art history program determines whether the study abroad course is equivalent to a course required for the major; if it is, the student is credited with fulfilling the requirement once the course is completed with a passing grade.

Teacher Licensure

Students interested in teaching in elementary and/or secondary schools should seek admission to the Teacher Education Program (TEP) in the College of Education.

To qualify for licensure in secondary teaching, students in the TEP complete a degree in education as well as a related College of Liberal Arts and Sciences degree. See Apply on the College of Education website for details on requirements and deadlines for applying to the College of Education and about TEP choices of majors leading to licensure.

The BA in art education is offered by the Department of Teaching and Learning, and the degree is awarded by the College of Education. In order to earn the BA in art education, students also must complete the BFA in art. For more information, contact the College of Education Academic Advising Office.

Honors

Honors in the Major

Students have the opportunity to graduate with honors in the major. Honors students must maintain a cumulative University of Iowa grade-point average (GPA) of at least 3.33 and a GPA of at least 3.50 in their major. They should meet with their academic advisor at the start of their final semester to complete the steps needed to graduate with honors in the major.

Students must complete a studio art research project during the semester in which they plan to graduate. They must select a studio art faculty member willing to supervise their honors project, display the completed project in a show, complete an abstract, and upload a JPEG image of their project. They earn credit for the project by enrolling in ARTS:4190 Honors in Studio Art.

University of Iowa Honors Program

In addition to honors in the major, undergraduate students have opportunities for honors study and activities through membership in the University of Iowa Honors Program. Visit Honors at Iowa to learn about the university's honors program.

Membership in the UI Honors Program is not required to earn honors in the art major.

Career Advancement

Many graduates pursue careers that match their degree specializations, for example, commercial or graphic designer, conservation or museum curator or administrator, art educator, public artist, or community art center coordinator or instructor. Others go on to graduate study in areas such as art history, art therapy, architecture, design, medical illustration, studio art, or disciplines outside of art.

The Pomerantz Career Center offers multiple resources to help students find internships and jobs.

Academic Plans

Four-Year Graduation Plan

The Four-Year Graduation Plan is not available for the BFA major in art. Students should work with their advisors to develop individual graduation plans.

Sample Plans of Study

Sample plans represent one way to complete a program of study. Actual course selection and sequence will vary and should be discussed with an academic advisor. For additional sample plans, see MyUI.

a Students majoring in art begin their study in the Bachelor of Arts program. They may apply to the Bachelor of Fine Arts program after consulting with the faculty in the studio discipline of their choice about the required portfolio review. Students are admitted to the BFA program through a process called "clearance," which is conducted once each semester; they must be admitted to the BFA program at least one semester before they graduate.

b Sustainability must be completed by choosing a course that has been approved for Sustainability AND for one of these General Education areas: Natural Sciences; Quantitative and Formal Reasoning; Social Sciences; Historical Perspectives; International and Global Issues; Literary, Visual, and Performing Arts; or Values and Society.

c Studio art majors are required to complete ARTS:1510 and ARTS:1520 by the end of their first academic year.

d Students may fulfill this general education requirement while also fulfilling major requirements. Up to three major courses can be used to fulfill one GE CLAS Core area each. These areas could include: diversity and inclusion; historical perspectives; international and global issues; literary, visual, and performing arts; or values and culture. Not all courses are available every semester. Students should consult with their advisor.

e GE CLAS Core courses may be completed in any order unless used as a prerequisite for another course. Students should consult with an advisor about the best sequencing of courses.

f For the two introductory-level studio 3D courses, students in the intermedia discipline complete INTM:2710. Select a second course from CERM:2010, MTL:2910, SCLP:2810, or TDSN:2210.

g Select art history survey course from ARTH:1040, ARTH:1050, ARTH:1060, ARTH:1070, and ARTH:1095. Some introductory-level art history courses will fulfill GE CLAS Core requirements; students should consult with their advisor.

h Select introductory-level studio 2D course from DRAW:2310, DSGN:2500, PHTO:2600, PNTG:2410, or PRNT:2610.

i Students who have completed four levels of a single language or two levels of two different languages in high school or college have satisfied the GE CLAS Core World Languages requirement. Students who have completed three levels of a single language may complete a fourth-level course in the same language or may choose an approved World Language and Cultural Exploration course. Enrollment in world languages courses requires a placement exam, unless enrolling in a first-semester-level course. Contact your academic advisor or CLAS Undergraduate Programs Office with questions concerning the World Languages requirement.

j Students may use elective courses to earn credit towards the total s.h. required for graduation or to complete a double major, minors, or certificates.

k Does not include ARTH:1000, ARTH:1040, ARTH:1050, ARTH:1060, ARTH:1070, ARTH:1080, ARTH:1095, ARTH:3985, ARTH:3995, and ARTH:4999.

l Students may select an elective art course until they complete a maximum of 62 s.h. of art courses, or select a non-art elective course.

m Please see Academic Calendar, Office of the Registrar website for current degree application deadlines. Students should apply for a degree for the session in which all requirements will be met. For any questions on appropriate timing, contact your academic advisor or Degree Services.
