Film and Video Production, MFA

Learning Outcomes

Students will:

• develop an artistic vision that will inform an emerging practice of film and video production, and begin to develop a portfolio;

• learn the advanced technical aspects of production from cinematography and editing to sound design;

• acquire a broad range of knowledge in film and media theories and histories;

• develop skills and experience in academic research and critical writing; and

• develop professionally, including showing work at festivals, applying for grants and residencies, acquiring requisite skills for academic employment, and learning the skills for successful job applications.