

Communication Studies, BA

Career Advancement

Communication studies graduates have numerous career options. The major provides solid preparation for employment in almost any job that requires effective critical thinking and communication skills. It also prepares students for graduate school by providing a strong theoretical and methodological foundation in communication research. Graduates find work in fields such as the arts, entertainment, and media industries; consulting; sales and marketing; human resources; public advocacy; and higher education.

The Pomerantz Career Center offers multiple resources to help students find internships and jobs.
