

English, BA

The English major provides instruction in and opportunities for writing in all of its classes. The department also offers an honors program in which students work closely with a faculty member to complete a major critical or creative project. See Honors [p. 5] in this section of the catalog.

Students interested in the English major should consult the academic advisor in the English undergraduate advising office.

Learning Outcomes

The goal is for students who graduate from the Department of English to demonstrate the skills of reflective reading, critical thinking, effective speaking, compelling writing, and engaged citizenship.

Reflective Readers

- Analyze literary and cultural texts through close reading.
- Gain broad knowledge of several fields of literature.
- Grasp formal elements of key literary genres.
- Learn to read comparatively to illuminate the aesthetic, social, and cultural contributions of texts.

Critical Thinkers

- Approach texts with a spirit of critical inquiry and flexibility.
- Formulate productive questions.
- Use textual evidence to support individual interpretations.
- Draw upon several different critical approaches to literature in English.

Effective Speakers

- Express opinions about the texts they read through discussion and written assignments.
- Listen respectfully to others' opinions.
- Work in class—whether through active listening or discussion—to learn by synthesizing a range of texts, insights, and opinions.

Compelling Writers

- Express their ideas in clear, fluent, and lively prose.
- Organize their ideas effectively.
- Use textual evidence to illustrate and support their insights and arguments.
- Demonstrate the ability to write in different modes that are appropriate to particular contexts.
- Engage properly with relevant scholarship and creative work.
- Use research skills that include an understanding of methods, technology, and conventions.

Engaged World Citizens

- Communicate respect and understanding for the literatures and cultures of diverse historical periods, geographical regions, and cultures.
- Explore ethical issues raised by literature.
- Reflect on the ways that literature addresses issues of social justice.

- Use reading, speaking, and writing skills to engage with the ethical concerns raised by literature in their daily and professional lives.

Requirements

The Bachelor of Arts with a major in English requires a minimum of 120 s.h., including at least 36 s.h. of work for the major. Students must maintain a grade-point average of at least 2.00 in all courses for the major and in all UI courses for the major. They also must complete the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences GE CLAS Core.

Students must earn at least 21 s.h. of credit for the major at the University of Iowa. Transfer students may count a maximum of 15 s.h. of approved transfer credit toward the major.

Students earning a major in English may not earn a major in English and creative writing.

Students in the English major may fulfill the GE CLAS Core Interpretation of Literature requirement with the introductory course ENGL:2010 Foundation of the English Major: Histories, Literatures, Pleasures, or with a second course from the Literary, Visual, and Performing Arts requirement, excluding dance courses (prefix DANC) numbered 1010-2040, MUS:1001, and MUS:1020.

Students pursuing the BA in English can choose to complete the requirements for the publishing track; see the following section, "Publishing Track." For information about teaching English in elementary or secondary schools, see the section titled "Teacher Licensure."

Electives

Students complete 12 s.h. in additional Department of English courses (prefixes ENGL or CNW) numbered above 2000. Students also may count a maximum of 6 s.h. earned in creative writing courses (prefix CW) numbered 2000–4999 as part of these electives.

Publishing Track

The world of publishing includes many different careers: editors, designers, agents, and even sales representatives. Students who are interested in these careers may wish to pursue the publishing track. By selecting courses carefully, students may complete the track without adding additional semester hours to their total credit required for graduation. Students should consult the department's advisor for information about completing the English major with the publishing track.

Courses range across print and digital media, exposing students to the history and practice of literary publishing while developing their skills in editing, proofreading, and writing with clarity and purpose. Internships and hands-on class learning offer students the opportunity to produce their own publications and gain practical experience.

Students in the publishing track must complete the following.

Literary Publishing

Course #	Title	Hours
Both of these (6 s.h.):
CNW:2991/ ENGL:2741	Publishing I: Introduction to Literary Publishing	3

One of these (1-3 s.h.):
ENGL:2040	English at Work	1
ENGL:4050	Internship for Majors	arr.
CCP:1201	Academic Internship	1-3

Teacher Licensure

Students who plan to teach English in elementary or secondary schools should consult with an advisor in the College of Education as early as possible; contact the Office of Student Services. The BA in English education requires that students choose particular courses in the English major in order to meet all related requirements; both degrees may be earned at the same time. Separate application to each degree program is required.

Students interested in teaching in elementary and/or secondary schools should seek admission to the Teacher Education Program (TEP) in the College of Education.

To qualify for licensure in secondary teaching, students in the TEP complete a degree in education as well as a related College of Liberal Arts and Sciences degree. See Apply on the College of Education website for details on requirements and deadlines for applying to the College of Education and about TEP choices of majors leading to licensure.

Honors

Honors in the Major

Students have the opportunity to graduate with honors in English and thereby enhance their course of study through honors seminars. All those interested in taking honors coursework are welcome to apply to the English Honors Program as soon as they qualify. The process begins with an online application; visit English Honors Programs on the Department of English website.

Students take three honors seminars and must achieve a University of Iowa grade-point average (GPA) of at least 3.33 and a major GPA of at least 3.50.

Each year the department offers between four and six scholarship and criticism seminars covering a wide range of subjects, authors, and methods. Limited to 16 students, honors seminars carry 3 s.h. of credit, meet three hours each week, and encourage class discussions that are lively and knowledgeable. Substantial reading and research are required and culminate in a 15–20 page essay. Students register for ENGL:4001– ENGL:4009. These courses cover different areas and historical periods, with possible focal points in American literature, British literature, literary theory, or transnational studies.

The third of the three honor seminars may be replaced with ENGL:4040 Honors Project in Literary Studies, a capstone project. For this independent study option, interested students should seek out possible mentors in their junior year.

To register for a scholarly seminar, students are encouraged to have a University of Iowa GPA of at least 3.33. In addition, they must have completed three English courses (not including introductory courses in nonfiction or creative writing) with an English major GPA of at least 3.33: ENGL:2010 Foundation of the English Major: Histories, Literatures, Pleasures; one course out of ENGL:2012 Reading and Writing About the Novel through ENGL:2016 Reading and Writing About the Essay; and a departmental course of their choosing.

University of Iowa Honors Program

In addition to honors in the major, students have opportunities for honors study and activities through membership in the University of Iowa Honors Program. Visit Honors at Iowa to learn about the university's honors program.

Membership in the UI Honors Program is not required to earn honors in the English major.

Career Advancement

The English major prepares students for a wide variety of career paths including teaching, medicine, law, graduate school, and jobs in private and nonprofit sectors where writing, organization, research, and communication are highly valued. Within a year of graduation, over 92% of Department of English students are employed or in graduate programs.

The department's advisor helps guide students in their career path. The Department of English partners with the Pomerantz Career Center to introduce career development strategies and offer resources to help students find internships and jobs. For more information, students are encouraged to explore Careers and Opportunities on the Department of English website or enroll in the 1 s.h. course, ENGL:2040 English at Work.

Academic Plans

Four-Year Graduation Plan

The following checkpoints list the minimum requirements students must complete by certain semesters in order to stay on the university's Four-Year Graduation Plan.

Before the fifth semester begins: at least two courses in the major.

Before the seventh semester begins: at least four more courses (total of six) in the major and at least 90 s.h. earned toward the degree.

Before the eighth semester begins: at least two more courses (total of eight) in the major.

During the eighth semester: enrollment in all remaining coursework in the major, all remaining GE CLAS Core courses, and a sufficient number of semester hours to graduate.

Iowa Degree in Three

University of Iowa majors who are strongly motivated can graduate with a degree in three years under the Iowa Degree in Three. The program is available to students who can complete more semester hours each term than they would on the Four-Year Graduation Plan.

Students sign an agreement during their first semester of enrollment; meet with an advisor at least once a semester to review their plans and progress; take courses during summer sessions, if necessary; meet specific course checkpoints; and maintain the grade-point average required for the major.

Students are allowed to bring Advanced Placement (AP), College Level Examination Program (CLEP), or transfer credit upon admission to reduce the number of semester hours required for their degree. They should consult their advisor about the program.

Sample Plan of Study

Sample plans represent one way to complete a program of study. Actual course selection and sequence will vary and should be discussed with an academic advisor. For additional sample plans, see MyUI.

a Sustainability must be completed by choosing a course that has been approved for Sustainability AND for one of these General Education areas: Natural Sciences; Quantitative and Formal Reasoning; Social Sciences; Historical Perspectives; International and Global Issues; Literary, Visual, and Performing Arts; or Values and Culture.

b GE CLAS Core courses may be completed in any order unless used as a prerequisite for another course. Students should consult with an advisor about the best sequencing of courses.

c Major courses can be taken in any order as long as ENGL:2010 is taken before any 3000-level-course.

d This course is recommended to fulfill the English elective requirement.

e Students who have completed four levels of a single language or two levels of two different languages in high school or college have satisfied the GE CLAS Core World

Languages requirement. Students who have completed three levels of a single language may complete a fourth-level course in the same language or may choose an approved World Language and Cultural Exploration course. Enrollment in world languages courses requires a placement exam, unless enrolling in a first-semester-level course. Contact your academic advisor or CLAS Undergraduate Programs Office with questions concerning the World Languages requirement.

- f Students may use elective courses to earn credit towards the total s.h. required for graduation or to complete a double major, minors, or certificates.
- g This course is recommended but not required for the BA in English.
- h English courses numbered ENGL:21XX, 27XX, 29XX, ENGL:3010, ENGL:31XX, ENGL:37XX-38XX, and CNW:20XX-49XX may be used for the craft and method requirement.
- i Students choose courses with the prefix ENGL, CNW, or CW numbered 2000 or above.
- j Students with honors in the major complete three seminars. Visit the Department of English website for more information on applying to the English Honors Program.
- k Students may count up to 6 s.h. earned in courses with prefix CW toward the major.
- l Please see Academic Calendar, Office of the Registrar website for current degree application deadlines. Students should apply for a degree for the session in which all requirements will be met. For any questions on appropriate timing, contact your academic advisor or Degree Services.
