Learning Outcomes

Environmental Sciences Program students will:

- synthesize scientific knowledge and methods across disciplines;
- comprehend and evaluate primary findings in published scientific articles;
- gain experience conducting independent research and/or reviewing scientific areas of interest; and
- effectively communicate scientific findings in written and/or oral form.