Theory Area Courses		3
Concentration Area Courses		6
Electives		6
Total Hours		34

For a more detailed description of the M.A. program in journalism, contact the School of Journalism and Mass Communication.

Admission

Applicants must meet the admission requirements of the Graduate College; see the Manual of Rules and Regulations on the Graduate College website.

Admission to the program is for fall entry.

Financial Support

The School of Journalism and Mass Communication offers research and teaching assistantships; preference is given to Ph.D. students. Students have been successful in winning competitive fellowships open to all graduate students; applicants must be nominated by the graduate committee.

Career Advancement

This is an academically oriented degree that prepares students for doctoral studies or a career in research.

The M.A. program is designed to meet the needs of:

- Journalism and mass communication students who have earned a bachelor's degree and wish to continue their education; M.A. students can be considered for admission into the doctoral program after completion of all their M.A. degree requirements.
- Experienced journalists or communicators who wish to prepare themselves for teaching by earning the M.A., possibly continuing on to earn their Ph.D. degree.

Academic Plans

Sample Plan of Study

Sample plans represent one way to complete a program of study. Actual course selection and sequence will vary and should be discussed with an academic advisor. For additional sample plans, see MyUI.
