

Literary Translation, MFA

Learning Outcomes

Students will be able to demonstrate:

- skills and knowledge of literary translation practice as a creative art;
- broad knowledge of the professional field of literary translation;
- familiarity with the cultural and literary context of the student's source language;
- understanding of literary translation as a critical and reflective practice and of the history and contemporary discourse on translation theories; and
- ability to independently complete a literary translation project of scope and sophistication.