The University of Iowa School of Music is prominent in a fine arts community of international repute. It has long been recognized as one of the excellent university-based music schools in the United States.

The school's on-campus enrollment of approximately 450 music majors is large enough to sustain strong programs in all areas of specialization, yet small enough to ensure the individual attention essential to each student's development.

The faculty consists of highly trained artist-teachers in each specialization area and scholars of international distinction. Private lessons with faculty members are offered in all band and orchestra instruments, and in voice, piano, and organ.

The school's undergraduate programs offer all qualified students, whether music majors or nonmajors, the opportunity for further study of music. In addition to its comprehensive course offerings for majors, the school provides a substantial selection of courses especially recommended for nonmajors and several approved for the GE CLAS Core (see "Courses for Nonmajors" below).

Graduate programs in music are designed primarily to prepare students for teaching in secondary schools, colleges, and universities and for careers in performance and music therapy.

The School of Music is a charter member of the National Association of Schools of Music. The requirements for entrance and for graduation are in accordance with the association's published standards.

The department is one of the academic units in the Division of Performing Arts. The School of Music participates in offering the Certificate in Arts Entrepreneurship and the Certificate in Public Digital Arts.

Courses for Nonmajors

The School of Music offers a wide range of courses that are appropriate for non-music majors. Courses about jazz, music and culture, music history, music software, and other topics are available as well as individual instruction on a number of instruments and voice; see School of Music Courses [p. 6] in this section of the Catalog.

Several School of Music courses are approved for the GE CLAS Core; look for courses with the prefix MUS under "Historical Perspectives," "Literary, Visual, and Performing Arts," and "Values and Culture" in the GE CLAS Core section of the Catalog.

For course descriptions, see School of Music Courses [p. 6] in this section of the Catalog.

Participation in School of Music ensembles is open to all University of Iowa students with the ensemble director's approval. Major ensembles are as follows.

Applied Music

Instruction in applied music consists of individual and/or class lessons, at the instructor's option, for a minimum of one hour per week (students register for 2 s.h.). Music majors are required to attend weekly performance and pedagogy seminars in applied music. Courses are offered on a fee-per-course basis, in addition to tuition, and may be repeated.

Instruction in jazz guitar, MUS:2038 Lower Level Jazz Guitar, is only offered at the lower level; enrollment is limited.

Music Education

The College of Education offers additional music education courses; see Teaching and Learning in the Catalog for listings and descriptions. Some courses are cross-listed with both departments, one for the School of Music and the other for the College of Education. Students preparing for music teacher licensure should register under the education number.

Also see MUS:3760 Jazz Band Techniques under "Jazz Studies" above.

The University of Iowa’s Center for New Music papers; and papers of composers Philip Greeley Clapp, William Hibbard, and Donald Martin Jenni. The Music Library holds the School of Music Recordings Archive, including faculty recital and ensemble concert program, audio recordings, and video recordings.

The Library’s online subscriptions include research tools such as Grove Music Online, RILM, RIPM, RISM, Music Index, International Index to Music Periodicals (IIMP), and the Oxford Music Bibliographies. Streaming media resources include Naxos Music Library Jazz and video libraries, Berlin Philharmonic Digital Concert Hall, Met Opera on Demand: Student Access, music online, and DRAM.

Materials circulate to University of Iowa faculty and students and to institutions that have reciprocal agreements for interlibrary loan services with the University.

Facilities

The School of Music is housed in the Voxman Music Building, a state-of-the-art facility in the heart of the downtown campus that opened in the fall of 2016. The 190,000 square-foot building includes a 700-seat concert hall; 200-seat recital hall; organ performance hall; opera and chamber music rehearsal spaces; faculty studios; classrooms; practice rooms; specialized facilities for music therapy, electronic music, and percussion; and light-filled public and social spaces. The building features the latest instructional and recording technology, and superior acoustic ambience and isolation.

Center for New Music

The Center for New Music is a vital component of the School of Music’s composition program. Since its founding in 1966, the center has been both laboratory and showcase for late 20th- and 21st-century music. It presents at least four concerts of contemporary works each academic season. It also provides a forum for visiting composers and other creative artists, bringing new music to a variety of outreach venues. Audition, rehearsal, and programming information is available on the Center for New Music website.

Rita Benton Music Library

The Rita Benton Music Library is located on the first floor of the Voxman Music Building. The Music Library holds more than 90,000 scores, including chamber music sets; 51,000 books, including bound journals; 125 active periodical subscriptions; and 46,000 media items in all formats. The Library’s online subscriptions include research tools such as Grove Music Online, RILM, RIPM, RISM, Music Index, International Index to Music Periodicals (IIMP), and the Oxford Music Bibliographies. Streaming media resources include Naxos Music Library Jazz and video libraries, Berlin Philharmonic Digital Concert Hall, Met Opera on Demand: Student Access, music online, and DRAM.

Materials circulate to University of Iowa faculty and students and to institutions that have reciprocal agreements for interlibrary loan services with the University.

Courses

Several School of Music courses are especially appropriate for non-music majors. Some are approved for the GE CLAS Core; look for them (prefix MUS) under "Historical Perspectives," "Literary, Visual, and Performing Arts," and "Values and Culture" in the GE CLAS Core section of the Catalog.

Applied music instruction consists of individual and/or class lessons, at the instructor's option, for a minimum of one hour per week (students register for 2 s.h.), or one half-hour per week (students register for 1 s.h.). Music majors are required to attend weekly performance and pedagogy seminars in applied music. Courses are offered on a fee-per-course basis, in addition to tuition, and may be repeated.
MUS:1009 Jazz Cultures in America and Abroad 3 s.h.
How to listen to jazz and recognize a variety of processes that are taking place in performances and recordings; historical, social, and political issues, including race and gender; the unique blend of jazz of a particular region; attendance at live performances, meet and interview musicians, critics, and educators.
