Physics, B.A.

Learning Outcomes
Physics majors will be able to:

• demonstrate competency in applying the basic laws
  of physics in classical and quantum mechanics, electromagnetism, thermodynamics, and statistical physics;
• solve complex, real-world problems using the principles of physics; and
• demonstrate competency in using basic instrumentation
  and in analyzing the data obtained.