Physics, B.S.

Learning Outcomes
Physics majors will be able to:

• demonstrate competency in applying the basic laws of physics in classical and quantum mechanics, electromagnetism, thermodynamics, and statistical physics;
• solve complex, real-world problems using the principles of physics; and
• demonstrate competency in using basic instrumentation and in analyzing the data obtained.