

Social Work, PhD

Learning Outcomes

Graduates will:

- locate their work in the intellectual landscape of social work;
- critically analyze theories, practices, policies, and research in at least one specialized area of social work knowledge;
- disseminate knowledge that contributes to the advancement of social work research, practice, and policy, including writing publishable, peer-reviewed manuscripts; presenting at local, national, or international conferences; and/or producing policy briefs or white papers; and
- in the social work classroom, create a learning culture and classroom climate that is inclusive of a diverse population of students and diverse learning styles.