Agricultural Safety and Health, Graduate Certificate

Admission

Admission requirements include:

• a bachelor's degree with a g.p.a. of at least 2.50 from an accredited university or equivalent experience and education,
• a letter of interest that explains the applicant's current position and educational objectives,
• a résumé, and
• completion of the application form.

For more information, and how to apply, visit Graduate Certificate in Agricultural Safety and Health on the College of Public Health website.