

Master of Accountancy, M.Ac.

Combined Programs

M.Ac./J.D.

The Department of Accounting and the College of Law offer the combined Master of Accountancy/Juris Doctor program. The combined M.Ac./J.D. requires a minimum of 18 s.h. of graduate coursework in accounting. Students in the program may count up to 12 s.h. of College of Law courses as electives for the M.Ac. and up to 12 s.h. of graduate accounting courses as electives for the J.D.

Separate application to each degree program is required. Applicants must be admitted to each program before they may be admitted to the combined program.

For information about the J.D. degree, see Juris Doctor, J.D. (College of Law) in the Catalog.
